2013 Musical Lineup

Kyle Kristofer
Master of Ceremonies

Andy McGhie Quintet The festival likes to highlight some of the best young lions in this city overflowing with young jazz talent. This opening act fills that mission. The interplay between Andy and Hermon will amaze you.

Andy McGhie Quintet
3:30 – 3:50 p.m.

Parallax Stan Kessler is one of Kansas City's most popular jazz musicians. In this group, he's assembled something unique: An ensemble with two extraordinarily talented drummers. The drive and interaction between Ryan Lee and Brian Steever is exciting, intriguing, and incredibly fun.

Parallax
4:10 – 5:00 p.m.

Mutual Musicians Foundation All-Stars The Mutual Musicians Foundation, in the 18th and Vine district, was once Kansas City's Black musicians' union hall. Nearly any name in jazz has jammed there. It's where Charlie Parker and Dizzy Gillespie first met. Today, the building is a National Historic Landmark. Jam sessions still fill Friday and Saturday nights from 1 – 5 a.m., just as they have for over 80 years. This group showcases of the best musicians and music you'll hear in those jams.

Mutual Musicians Foundation All-Stars
5:20 – 6:10 p.m.

Everette DeVan -Chris Hazelton Quartet If two drummers in one group is unique, a pair of Hammond B3 organs playing off each other is genuinely special. With veteran Everette DeVan and his protégé Chris Hazelton driving the music, no group in this year's festival will swing harder – or deliver bigger smiles – than this one.

Everette DeVan—Chris Hazelton Quartet
6:30 – 7:20 p.m.

Marilyn Maye She's a Kansas City legend. Audiences adore her but we've had little opportunity to hear her in Kansas City recently. Here's a chance to enjoy the singer who has performed on Johnny Carson's Tonight Show more than any other, and the voice that remains a jazz treasure.

Marilyn Maye
7:40 – 8:40 p.m.

Bobby Watson All-Star Big Band with Special Guest Jon Faddis Start with Bobby Watson and his big band specially assembled to perform with the Kansas City Symphony. Add internationally renowned jazz trumpet star Jon Faddis. Now you have two honorees of this year's Downbeat Critics Poll backed by a band of Kansas City's top jazz musicians as the festival's exclusive finale.
